GHOST COURIER

Nov. 12th/82 X

There will be no editorial this week, why you ask, well because I don't feel like writing about anything. If I was going to bitch about something I'd bitch about why the inmates were led to believe that the new universal, gym weight unit used for lifting weights, was to be put in the gym when it was put in the armoury to be used by the staff.

ECLIPSE

Monday

There should be an eclipse but I don't know what time but it should be between 8 and 11:30. I think it is an eclipse of the moon.

THE BANK ROBBER'S POEM

The hour was quiet, the day was cool,
When I walked into the bank I was nobodies fool.
I looked around as cool as you dare,
But nobody paid me no heed, not even a stare.

I looked around and thought I had better begun,
So I walked up to the teller and showed him my gun.
His eyes bulged from his frozen white faced stare,
He could have shit himself but I didn't care.

So then I spoke to him as nice as you please,
And he looked at the gun so I pretended to squeeze.
I said, "Here's the way it's gonna be,
You'll get all the damn money and give it to me."

But I want no heroics from the white collared class
As I'll squeeze this trigger and sit you on your ass."
But he kept his cool the man with the white face,
As did everyone except the person saying "Last Grace."

I fled the bank amongst the screams and howlers
And on the way out I shouted, "Thank you all for your dollars."
The car sped away with such great speed,
With not even time to look back at my deed.

I sat there and wondered at what I had done,
But I smiled and thought, "You bank robbing son-of-a-gun."

No Superbowl?

Well the players have turned down the latest offer by the owners for a new wage scale and benefits. The N.F.L. players are the lowest payed sports figures in the U.S.A. today. Never mind the Superbowl, there will probably be no football played at all.

Jogging Suits?

A new clerk, in a new women's store at a new shopping mall, was treated to a strange start this week. A man walked in and asked to try on women's jogging suits. When he was in the dressing room he called out that the suit he had was too small, and would the clerk get him another, larger, size. The clerk got the suit then asked if it was okay to enter and was told yes. She opened the door and met her first flasher, who got away before she could get a security guard. She's not sure what his face looked like. (Jogging Suits?!)
